Salem Physician Killed In Car-Truck Crash on Route 14

Dr. Falkenstein, Pathologist At Clinic, Victim

Believe Car Skidded On Ice; Was Acting As Deputy Coroner

Dr. Alfons P. Falkenstein, 51, of 1234 Cleveland St., chief pathologist for the Salem Central Clinic and the Alliance City Hospital, was fatally injured in the collision of his automobile and a tank truck trailer on Alternate Route 14, about four miles east of Salem, at about 9:15 a.m. today.

The physician, who was pinned in the wreckage of his car for awhile, was pronounced dead upon arrival at Salem City Hospital of chest and internal injuries.

Car May Have Skidded

State highway patrolmen from the Lisbon post who still are investigating the tragedy, said it appeared to them that the doctor's car skidded on an icy stretch of the road and crashed head-on into the truck which was driven by Wayne E. Rogers, 38, of Newark.

The trucker was uninjured.

Dr. Falkenstein was acting as deputy coroner for Dr. William Kolozsi, the coroner, who is vacationing at Williamsburg, Va., with his wife and C. J. Mosher, City Hospital administrator and his wife.

Reportedly, Dr. Falkenstein was returning from Columbiana at the time.

The impact pinned the doctor's car against a utility pole on the south side of the highway near Freedies Tavern.

The truck was owned by Leslie J. Strawn of Canton.

Dr. Falkenstein came to Salem in 1945 from Toledo where he had been associate pathologist and supervising physician of clinical laboratories and blood banks at St. Vincent Hospital.

He worked first at Salem City Hospital and then became chief pathologist for the Salem Central Clinic and the Alliance City Hospital, dividing his time between the two.

Hays Pledges Aid to Get P.O. Improvements

Congressman Wayne L. Hays announced today that he would do all within his power to help Salem get needed improvements at the Post Office building.

Don Gosney of Columbiana, county and district Democratic chairman, said that Representative Hays has asked the General Services Administration for a "full report" on the Salem Post Office situation.

The GSA, it is reported, has had several projects under study for repairing and enlarging the local post office building but approval has never been made for any improvement.

Plaster has fallen periodically inside the building for the past year and only a week ago a woman patron in the lobby of the post office was hit on the head by a shower of plaster dust.

Local postal officials contend the building is inadequate for the amount of business the office now does. It was built in 1915.

330 Pupils Absent From Schools Here

Approximately 330 absenteeism were reported in the Salem public schools today, according to Deane Phillips, officer of child accounting.

This is 15 per cent of total school enrollment. Total number of influenza cases is not known.

Figures show a slight decrease over Monday's absenteeism.

Streets, Roads Cindered After Light Snowfall

Streets and highways were made slippery early this morning by the freezing rain and snow but city, state and county cinder trucks soon had all hills and curves salted and ashed.

Moderating temperatures later melted the snow on the highways although a light coat remained on the ground.

Northeast Hit By Snowstorm

18 Deaths Blamed On Frigid Blast

By The Associated Press

A far-ranging snowstorm that developed over the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle over the weekend, hammered the Northeast today, dumping heavy falls in many areas.

Northerly winds, trailing the storm, powered cold Canadian air southward from the Rockies across broad areas eastward. It was far below zero in sections of the Rockies.

The Weather Bureau in Boston warned of heavy snow in southern New Hampshire and southern and central Maine, with falls of 4 to 8 inches in most areas and up to 10 inches along the Maine coast. Fairly heavy snow was reported in eastern New York.

Sleet and freezing rain pelted southern New England, making driving hazardous.

A fast moving coastal storm centered near southern Cape Cod during the early morning dumped 2 to 6 inches of snow from Massachusetts northward into southern Vermont and New Hampshire and southwestern Maine.

The snow belt extended from western New York into lower Michigan but westward the snow diminished considerably, with light falls in the upper and middle Mississippi Valley. Snow flurries continued in the Ohio Valley, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia. Light showers sprinkled areas from Connecticut southward through Virginia. Some fog also as reported.

The storm was blamed for at least 18 deaths, including seven in Nebraska, five in Colorado, four in Illinois and one each in Texas and Wisconsin.

Defense Pact Signed by U.S., Japan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Japan today signed a treaty formally raising Japan, once a defeated, U.S.-occupied World War II enemy, to the status of an equal partner in U.S.-Japanese relations.

With President Eisenhower in attendance, Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi signed for Japan and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter for the United States in a historic ceremony at the White House.

Appropriately for historians, the signings took place in the East Room of the executive mansion—the same room where President James Buchanan received the first Japanese envoys when Japan resumed contact with the outside world 100 years ago.

The new defense treaty is similar in many ways to pacts America has signed with 41 other free world Allies.

America recognizes that an armed attack on Japan "would be dangerous to its own peace and safety" and promises to "act to meet the common danger."

Japan cannot pledge reciprocity to help defend U.S. territory in case of attack because her U.S.-sponsored constitutional provision renouncing war is interpreted as barring her from sending troops outside Japan.

But Japan grants use of land, air and naval bases in Japan by U.S. forces without time limit.

The two countries agree to con-

Ward Boundary Changes Here Declared Illegal

County Prosecutor Issues Ruling On Council's Action

An ordinance enacted by the Salem City Council Dec. 15 to change the boundaries of the city's four wards "is a nullity and is void," Columbiana County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw ruled today in an opinion requested by the County Election Board.

A City Council in Ohio has the right to revise ward boundaries, but only within three months after a proclamation has been issued by the secretary of state listing the community's population officially as an aftermath of a decennial federal census or when the community has annexed territory which contains sufficient population to increase the number of ward councilmen, the prosecutor's ruling said.

Under Ohio law, a city council is comprised of four ward councilmen and three members-at-large. Only when the population goes over 25,000, based on the federal census, is the city permitted to establish a fifth ward and provide for election of an additional councilman, the prosecutor said.

13 Precincts Involved

The Salem ordinance provided for major realignment of the boundaries of Wards 1, 2 and 3 and some minor changes in the lines of Ward 4, according to the election board. But in realigning the wards, the changes would have affected 13 of the city's 21 precincts, the election board said.

The ordinance is scheduled to go into effect about Jan. 28. It was published as a legal notice for the first time Monday and would go into effect 10 days later.

The Election Board said it obtained a copy of the Salem ordinance after its enactment in order to determine what effect the changes would have on Salem wards and precincts in the conduct of elections. Salem officials did not furnish a map of the proposed new boundaries, but a map improvised by the board, based on the wording of ordinance, showed that there would be changes in the lines of 13 precincts.

"The board was concerned with the effect of the legislation on declarations of candidacy and petitions filed by the Feb. 3 deadline for the May 3 primaries," Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, explained. "A person filing for a member of the party central committee (precinct committee) must reside in 3A, when he filed but because of the changes he might be switched to 1-B."

"If the changes had become effective, it would have been necessary for the Election Board to issue new legal descriptions of the precinct boundaries," O'Hanlon said.

Time Limit Not Sufficient

The prosecutor's opinion pointed out that since the last federal census was made in 1950 and the Salem ordinance was enacted in 1959 "the action was not taken within the time limit set by law."

Brokaw added that "in addition, there is nothing before me to indicate any territory was annexed."

Woman Acquitted Of Murder After Years In Prison

ROME, Ga. (AP) — After spending a third of her life in jail, Bertha Gossett Hill, 41, was ordered acquitted Monday of charges that she murdered her husband, a mechanic, with poison.

Mrs. Hill was first convicted of killing Leroy Hill with arsenic in 1946 and sentenced to death. She won a new trial, but was convicted again and given a life sentence the following year.

Mrs. Hill was confined at state prison until August 1958 when she was returned to Rome and ordered to file an extraordinary motion for a new trial.

Basis for the motion were affidavits of three members of the last trial jury that they had not voted for conviction. A third trial was granted. The Georgia Supreme Court denied an attempt by the state to block the trial.

The prosecutor said the state was unable to prosecute a third time because it could not locate needed witnesses.

NLRB Supervises Balloting Here

Workers Retain Union At Salem Fabricating

Production and maintenance employees of the Salem Fabricating & Machine Co. voted almost three to one Monday in favor of the United Steelworkers union 3406 as their exclusive bargaining agent.

The vote in the National Labor Relations Board supervised balloting was:

|-----|----|
| Yes | 90 |
| No | 36 |

Four of the 130 eligible workers declined to vote.

Ronald Janetzke, field examiner from the Cleveland regional NLRB office, supervised the vote which was set by the federal agency after a group of company employees petitioned the NLRB for union decertification proceedings.

As the result of the outcome of the plant vote, Ed Hilland, sub-district director of the United Steelworkers, said he would ask the company for an immediate resumption of contract negotiations.

Kenneth Wirtz, company president, commented "The vote is decisive as to the men in the shop's desire that the Steelworkers remain as their representative, however, the problem of successful manufacturing competition with other members of the furnace industry remains to be solved."

The company, the manufacturing subsidiary of the Electric Furnace Co., has been working with only a skeleton staff since the contract with the union expired last Nov. 14. Nearly 105 workers have been idle. All of the employees, either at work or on layoff, were eligible to vote.

The union was represented in the secret balloting by Lauriston Lane, president, and Warren Courtney, recording secretary; the company by Robert Hanna, and the petitioning union group by Burton Sutter and Arden Lehman.

The vote was taken in the company's conference room from 6 to 9 a.m. and from 2 to 6 p.m.

Group Wrests Local Control From Presser

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A rank-and-file group headed by Secretary-Treasurer John J. Angelo has won its three-year battle to wrest control of the Teamsters' big Local 377 from the grip of William Presser, Ohio Teamsters president.

Outcome of the election held Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Youngstown, Warren, Painesville and Ashtabula was quite close. Not until the counting of 171 disputed votes Monday night was it clear Angelo forces would hold a 4-3 edge on the union's board of directors. Previously, the Presser group had a 6-1 advantage.

Angelo himself got the largest single vote and defeated Cyril Novotny 1,854 to 1,518 to win another term as secretary-treasurer.

But Robert Higham, Presser-backed candidate for re-election as president, polled almost as many in thumping John Peacock of Youngstown, 1,835 to 1,564.

The Angelo forces elected William Gaw of Columbiana vice president, Jack O'Neill recording secretary and Joseph Sammartino trustee.

The group supported by Presser and Teamsters' International president James R. Hoffa elected Abe Schwartz to another term as trustee and Thomas J. Farrello of Ashtabula, a former vice president, as trustee.

Each faction elected one business agent, with the Angelo group retaining John L. Ferguson of Ashtabula, and the Higham group electing Dan Brott of Youngstown.

School Board Gets Tax Funds, Okays Bills For Payment

Payment of outstanding bills, accumulated over the last two months, was approved by the Salem Board of Education Monday at a special meeting.

Total amount of the bills was $34,044.03 and included operating expenses in the Salem school district such as payment for books and repairs to property.

Payment was made possible by receipt last week of the balance of 1959 personal property tax distributions. The amount received from the county auditor's office was roughly $152,000, bringing the year's total school revenue to $301,646.09.

Darrel Fadely, the school's business manager, said the total distribution is divided $250,797.90 for the general fund and $50,848.19 for bond retirement.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Education is Monday night, Feb. 2.

Craft Bursts Into Flames After Mishap

Capital Airlines Plane Lost In Fog; Two Infants On Board

HOLDCROFT, Va. (AP) — A Norfolk-bound Capital Airlines plane, groping confusedly at house-top level in heavy fog, crashed on the side of a marshland ravine near here Monday night. Fifty persons died in the flaming wreckage.

Early this morning, rescuers who had been held back for nearly eight hours by the searing heat finally were able to enter a portion of the bulk to begin removing the bodies of the victims—46 passengers and a crew of four.

Capital reported two of the victims were infants.

The first charred body was removed from the plane at 7:50 a.m. It appeared that few would be identifiable. Police indicated a seat plan of the flight would be used to discover which passenger was in each seat and that the seats would then be tagged to assist in identification.

A crash truck parked near the still smoldering ruins and ambulances stood by to carry bodies to a hospital in Richmond, where the more difficult aspects of identification would be turned over to a medical examiner.

The big jet-prop Viscount, Capital Flight 20 from Chicago to Norfolk via Washington, plunged to earth shortly after 10:30 p.m. — the time she was due in Norfolk.

Near Open Field

Only a few hundred yards away was an open field where the plane might have made a safe emergency landing—had the pilot been able to see the field.

"She seemed to come down like somebody pulled a rug out from under her," said Robert H. Tench, whose farmhouse is only about 300 yards from the crash scene near the Chickahominy River. "She came straight down."

All but five of the passengers had boarded the plane at Washington for the relatively short hop to Norfolk. These five, continuing through from Chicago, had switched planes at Washington to finish their trip.

Tench said the plane, which had left Washington for Norfolk at 9:48 p.m., was perilously low and circling, apparently lost in the heavy fog and light rain, shortly before the crash.

"It came pretty near hitting my house twice," Tench said. "The second time it went over it was so low that when it went outside, my whole yard was full of smoke from the engines."

"I went back in the house, and all of a sudden I didn't hear anything. I didn't hear an explosion and I didn't feel a jar."

"All of a sudden, everything was quiet."

Saw Beginning of Fire

Tench went upstairs then, saw the beginning of the fire that subsequently swept the plane, and summoned police.

All of the plane except its tail assembly and a part of a wing, which were torn off by the crash, burned for hours.

The charred trunks of trees protruded upward through the flaming fuselage in which passengers and crew were cremated.

The plane lay in a pit which it had dug when it fell. Several times during the night as rescuers stood vigil, there were small explosions. Police kept hundreds of curious sightseers at a safe distance and blocked roads to the scene.

The crash site was about 30 miles southeast of Richmond on a tributary of the Chickahominy called Sandy Gut. Marshland broken occasionally by small

County Court Receipts Up

Total of $29,803 Taken In Last Year

Fines collected in the Northwest County Court by Judge Luther Donbar in 1959 almost doubled after state law removed state cases from mayor's courts.

According to the annual report released by Judge Donbar, fines collected up to Nov. 5, when the law changed, totaled $1,058.20. From Nov. 6 through Dec. 31, fines totaled $2,111.

Total fines in the year-long period amounted to $3,169.20.

In other areas of the report, cash receipts handled by the court amounted to $23,991.91 during the year in civil cases and $5,811.70 in criminal cases for a grand total of $29,803.61.

The judge reported that he received a total of $1,961.41 in court costs during the year with more than one third of the total coming in after Nov. 5.

In all, Judge Donbar heard 713 cases — 352 criminal and 361 civil.

Prosecution Tries To Link Mistress With Murder Plot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A child-hood playmate of pretty Carole Tregoff says he introduced her to a "shady character" and—

"She wanted to know his capabilities, from murder or any activity like that."

With this testimony by Donald S. Williams, 21, the prosecution opened its attempt Monday to tie Dr. R. Bernard Finch's red-haired mistress into an alleged plot to kill Finch's estranged wife.

Barbara Jean Finch, 36, was shot to death last July 18 outside their fashionable home in suburban West Covina. The rich surgeon, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, an ex-model and once his receptionist, are accused of murdering her to clear the way for their own marriage without having to give her a share of the Finch estate.

Miss Tregoff's attorneys lost a spirited fight to prevent testimony — given the county grand jury earlier — about an asserted deal to kill Mrs. Finch for $1,400 offered by Miss Tregoff.

Legislature Rated One of Best' Last Year's Ohio Assembly Lauded In AFL-CIO Analysis

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Last year's 103rd General Assembly was one of the best in many years, as far as the Ohio AFL-CIO is concerned. The organization said so in a 96-page analysis of the Democratic-controlled session made public today.

Although the report praised the Democratic legislators, the labor group said it must not be construed as a blanket endorsement of all the Democrats nor a blanket condemnation of all the Republicans.

"The worker has good friends in both parties," the AFL-CIO said. "The only way to decide who are our friends is to examine the voting record. This we have done. This will help the individual worker decide for himself which candidate deserves his support."

Discussed voting records

The organization discussed the voting records on 15 major pieces of legislation in the Senate and 14 in the House.

The AFL-CIO rated votes on the issues in three categories: Right, partial right and wrong.

Votes selected were on supplemental unemployment benefits, workmen's compensation, fair employment practices, health care, aid to the aged, four registration bills, check-off of dues for state employees, apprenticeship program, so-called labor reform bill, an anti-injunction bill and female working hours.

Five senators, all Democrats, the AFL-CIO said, voted "right" on each of the 15 roll call votes. They were Majority Leader Frank King (Lucas), William Baker (Montgomery), Edward Dell (Butler), Charles Carney (Mahoning) and Ed Witmer (Stark).

Another Democrat, Frank Svoboda (Cuyahoga) voted right on all 13 tests for which he was present.

Right on 14 of 15 Votes

Nine other Democratic senators voted right on 14 of 15 votes, the AFL-CIO said. They were:

Sen. Stephen Olenick (D-Mahoning) voted right on each of the 11 roll calls he was present.

The Democratic senators who compiled the "weakest" records were Ray T. Miller Jr. (Cuyahoga), Fred Harter (Summit), Arthur Blake (Belmont) and J. Sherman Porter (Gallia).

Sen. Ross Pepple (R - Allen) topped the Republican senators with six "right", two "partial right" and five "wrong." Charles A. Mosher (Lorain) was second among the GOP delegation with six right, three partial right and six wrong.

'Worst' Voting Records

The "worst" voting records among the Republicans were compiled by Minority Leader C. Stanley Mechem (Athens), William H. Deddens (Hamilton), Lowell Fess (Greene), Theodore M. Gray (Miami), Gordon Renner (Hamilton), Harry E. Schwall (Fulton), and Robert Shaw (Franklin).

Democrats also dominated the field in the Ohio House, the labor organization reported, adding that only one Republican—Guy Hiner (Stark)—"can be singled out for compiling an especially impressive voting record." Hiner voted "right" on 12 of 14 roll calls.

"No other Republican even came close to Hiner's record or compiled what could be called an over-all good voting record," the AFL-CIO said.

The record of Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr. (Hamilton) was singled out as one of the poorest among House Republicans. The AFL-CIO pointed out that Taft voted "wrong" on five measures and was absent when the other bills came up for a vote.

13 Who Balloted Right

On the 14 test roll call votes in the House, there were 13 Democrats who voted right on each issue. They were:

Thomas J. Barrett (Mahoning), William Carney (Trumbull), William J. Donovan (Lucas), James T. Foley (Franklin), Thomas P. Gilmarin (Mahoning), Joseph J. Horvath (Cuyahoga), John Kovach (Cuyahoga), A. G. Lancione (Belmont), George E. Leist (Pike), David T. Matia (Cuyahoga), Frank R. Pokorny (Cuyahoga), Francis F. Reno (Lucas) and G. D. Tablack (Mahoning).

Nine other Democrats had "perfect" records on the 13 votes they were present for. They were:

Frank J. Gorman (Cuyahoga), Jes P. Kilbane (Cuyahoga), Donald C. Nist Jr. (Stark), Anthony F. Novak (Cuyahoga), Francis C. Sullivan (Cuyahoga), Paul J. Lynch (Franklin), Hugh A. Corrigan (Cuyahoga), Mrs. Anna M. Donnelly (Cuyahoga) and Joseph Loha (Jefferson).

The AFL-CIO said Rep. Ralph Rudd (D-Lake) also should be credited with a perfect right voting record. Rudd voted against final passage of the workmen's compensation bill but his vote was a protest vote against compromises that were made to get the bill passed, it was explained. Rudd was absent for one roll call but voted right on all of the other 13 tests.

Convictions of 4 Overturned

Peacetime Courts-Martial for Civilians Abroad Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has ruled out peacetime court-martial trials for civilians abroad, but has gone out of its way to offer suggestions how the military might handle the resulting situation.

In divided decisions Monday, the high tribunal overturned military convictions of three civilian employees and a civilian dependent who accompanied armed forces overseas.

Justice Tom C. Clark, author of three majority opinions, said such military trials violated the constitutional right to trial by jury. This right applies to everyone except members of the armed forces.

Clark recalled that in 1957 the court declared unconstitutional the military trial convictions of two women accused of killing their servicemen husbands abroad. These were capital cases, involving possible death penalties.

Monday's decisions broadened the 1957 legal holding to include civilian dependents of servicemen and employees of the military regardless of the nature of the offenses.

One Army official, emphasizing the problem, said the number of civilian dependents and employees abroad equals or is greater than the number of men in uniform. The Justice Department, during argument of the cases, told the Supreme Court the civilians abroad commit a substantial number of offenses and create serious disciplinary problems.

Clark said one plan to meet the problem would be to incorporate civilian employees directly into the armed services, either by compulsory induction or by voluntary enlistment.

The most drastic measure would send classes home if the teacher is expected to be out more than one day but less than a week. The board granted his request. Altogether, 5 per cent of the teaching staff was out because of illness, Schinnerer said.

Democratic Congress Lays Plans to Revamp Ike's Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Congress signaled its intention today of recasting President Eisenhower's budget along the lines of its own political ideas. Prime target in a drive to pare down the over-all $79,800,000,000 spending total forecast for the year beginning July 1 seemed likely to be the President's request for $4,175,000,000 in new money for foreign aid. This included two billion for military outlays.

Although Eisenhower estimated the amount of actual aid spending at $3,450,000,000, he asked for more appropriations to stretch the program out into the future. The quick consensus was that he will get less new money than he expects to spend.

Plan To Reshuffle Program

On the other hand, Democrats laid the groundwork to reshuffle and increase the $40,995,000,000 defense program. They showed immediate irritation and disappointment that Eisenhower's space recommendation were not more comprehensive.

In other comment, they balked at increasing postal rates or gasoline rates, as Eisenhower asked. They criticized his housing proposals. They raked his proposal to raise the interest ceiling on government bonds.

By way of action, they called a Senate Democratic caucus Wednesday to take the first steps toward passage of a billion-dollar school construction bill there is every indication the President will veto.

Outnumbered Republicans announced they will fight not only to keep the budget balanced but to assure the $4,184,000,000 surplus Eisenhower forecast.

Providing Sufficient Funds

Most of the Republicans sounded the election year note that Eisenhower was providing sufficient funds to maintain the essential economic growth of the country.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a Democratic presidential hopeful, challenged this contention in a speech in Milwaukee, Wis., Monday night. He said Eisenhower policies had stunted economic growth for seven years.

Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, the House GOP leader, said the Republicans' biggest challenge will come "in holding the line against added spending which would wreck all hope for a balanced budget, let alone a surplus."

Predicts Little Change

However, Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of all GOP senators predicted the Democrats would huff and puff but wouldn't be able to change the President's recommendations very much.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said the surplus estimate was only a guess, and added it probably won't be realized.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas characterized some portions of the budget as "a chip placed on the shoulder to start a political argument." He said Eisenhower had made some statements about proposed space outlays that weren't true.

Frank's Friendship With Other Crash Suspect Probed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Authorities are investigating a report that Julian A. Frank, suspect in the Jan. 6 airliner bombing, knew a man under suspicion in a Nov. 16 crash.

The crashes, both of National Airlines planes, took a total of 76 lives.

Charles S. Collar, Civil Aeronautics Board examiner in Miami, called the acquaintanceship of Frank and Dr. Robert Spears of Dallas, Tex., "a little too strong to be called just a coincidence."

He said "We will certainly look into the connection."

Collar commented after Los Angeles Asst. Dist. Atty. Julian Blodgett told of a statement by Dr. Donald A. Loomis, a Los Angeles chiropractor.

Loomis was quoted as saying Dr. Spears, 64, wanted Loomis to agree to hiring Frank, 32, of New York, as their counsel in an abortion conspiracy case.

Spears ostensibly died in the Nov. 16 crash in the Gulf of Mexico. Frank presumably died in the Jan. 6 crash at Bolivia, N.C. Loomis was quoted as saying he wouldn't be surprised if Spears or Frank still live and had a connection with both crashes.

John Ursu to Run For County Engineer

Married and the father of one child he was graduated from Case Institute of Technology in 1955.

The incumbent county engineer is Charles O. Snyder of Salem, a Republican.

Meanwhile, Samuel J. Crawford of Madison Township near West Point, a former county judge in the minor judiciary system, filed today for the Democratic nomination for county commissioner.

ed that, on account of the number of inhabitants, would entitle the city to an additional councilman.

The prosecutor pointed out that it is not ordinarily within the province of his office to pass upon the legality of an ordinance enacted by a council. Such questions generally are decided by a court, he said.

However, as legal adviser to the election board, he issued an opinion at the request of the board, he explained.

Concluding, he said the "Salem Council had no legal right to act" and added: "Therefore the ordinance is a nullity and has no legal effect."

The ordinance was passed by the Council that retired Dec. 31.

"Since the ordinance has no legal effect, declarations of candidacy and petitions filed for membership of the county central committee in precincts established prior to Dec. 15 are valid and should be so treated by the election board," the prosecutor wrote in his opinion.

The election board met last night in East Liverpool to study the prosecutor's opinion and to give notice to that effect to the Salem mayor, council and solicitor.

Second Airliner Disaster

The crash was the second commercial airliner disaster of the year and Virginia's second in less than three months.

Thirty-four persons died in the mysterious crash of a National Airlines plane near Bolivia, N.C., Jan. 6. Last Oct. 30, a Piedmont Airlines plane crashed on a Blue Ridge mountainside near Waynesboro, Va., with the death of 28 of the 27 persons aboard.

Fog was general throughout eastern and central Virginia when the Viscount crashed. Airports in Richmond and a number of other cities were closed, but not the airport at Norfolk.

The four-engine plane, flying by instrument rules, was piloted by Capt. James B. Fornasero, 50, a veteran of almost 20 years of airline flying. Other members of the crew were First Officer Henry Cullom Jr., 36; and hostesses Diane Margaret O'Donnell, 26, and Brigitte Friede Helene Jordt, who would have been 24 Wednesday. Both Fornasero and Cullom were Air Force pilots in World War II.

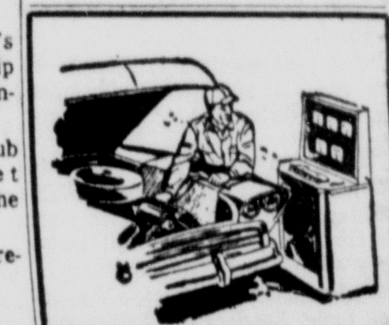

Pieces of the plane were found, hundreds of yards from the main part which lay burning in a self-made ravine.

Around the intact tail section, suitcases, other luggage, aluminum cooking utensils and small, shattered parcels, were scattered everywhere.

THESE DAYS, THE YOUNG MOTHER-TO-BE wants pretty clothes to wear while she awaits the baby's arrival. And she's getting them. Designers are creating chic clothes especially for her, everything for a complete wardrobe that's not in the least apologetic. A suit which shows the Chanel influence (left) has corduroy jacket in miniature houndstooth check bound in braid. It's worn with skirt in pinwale corduroy and classic white shirt. Separates for at-home wear (center) combine white corduroy top, which has four patches of brilliant color, with slim tapered pants. Dressy maternity separates (right) in velvety pinwale corduroy are intended for little evenings. Printed top has white background with holly leaf motif. Shirt is slim and straight.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Don't give me heck, just give me advice on how to get out of this mess.

I'm a married man who foolishly got mixed up with a widow who works in the same office. She's 10 years older than I am and has a nice income in addition to her salary. Her husband left her well fixed.

When we first started to go out she told me she was lonely and willing to pay for the pleasure of my company. She picked up the dinner checks and cocktail tabs. I told my wife I had a second job four nights a week. The woman gave me $80 every Friday so I could bring home an extra pay check.

Now I'm tired of this phony setup and find it hard to look my wife and kids in the eye. The woman says if I drop her she'll tell my wife everything. Also she claims I will be forced by law to pay her $960 which is what she has given me. Please tell me what to do.—NUMBSKULL.

Dear Numbskull: Don't let this woman blackmail you. Tell your wife everything. If she doesn't throw you out on your head you're luckier than you deserve.

Stop seeing Mrs. Gotrocks at once and let her know you've resigned as her gigolo. I'm no lawyer but it's my off-hand opinion that she would have a difficult time getting back money which was payment for your company.

Young Card Shark

Dear Ann: Our 17-year-old son is a senior in high school. He's an excellent student—also a card shark, which worries me. His Dad says there's no harm in a young boy's playing cards and I can see where it's a good social outlet. But when he wins as much as $30 in a poker game with classmates I think it's terrible.

In addition to the large amounts of money involved, I don't approve of high school kids staying up till 4:30 and 5 a.m. playing cards. They did this at our house last Saturday and I was at a loss as to what to do. Advise me please.—LUCKY'S MOM.

Dear Mom: A card game in which a 17-year-old can win $30 isn't a fun pastime—it's gambling. And the stakes are much too high.

You'll have a tough time getting your son to throw in the deck if he enjoys the game and is an expert at it. Suggest there be a limit on how much a player can win or lose and tell him no card playing after 1 a.m. Let's hope this is just a phase.

Dad And Pop

Dear Ann: I've been married almost a year and have three daughters by a former marriage. The children see their father every week and are fond of him.

My daughter, aged 10, asked what she should call her stepfather as she's uncomfortable calling him by his first name. She claims it doesn't sound nice in front of friends.

She says she can't call him Daddy because this name is reserved for her real father. The other children are 7 and 5 and they call their stepdad by his first name as they imitate the oldest one. Can you suggest something?—UPPA TREE.

Dear Uppa: Since the real dad is "Daddy" why not call the stepfather "Pop"? If the oldest one starts the younger ones will follow and the problem will be neatly solved for one and all.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M. D.

Catarrh Calls For Medical Consultation

The word "catarrh" simply means an excess of secretion. As the term is commonly used, it refers to an overflowing nasal discharge. And the complaint of catarrh is just about as annoying and offensive to members of the household and co-workers as it is to the sufferer.

As a matter of actual fact, the catarrhal patient suffers more from an inability to get rid of nasal discharge than from excessive secretion. He sneezes and blows in a vain attempt to get rid of the accumulation through his nostrils. And, failing this, he snorts and hawks in embarrassing efforts to cough up back-drip.

Each of these performances is disturbing to the victim and his audience. Either is enough to ruin a conversation, a friendly meal, a business deal or a romantic interlude. That's probably why so many correspondents have written for a discussion of the complaint.

IN ALMOST every instance, catarrh is basically a mechanical problem, and, as such, unresponsive to medical treatment.

Sometimes, when the nasal obstruction is due to swelling of soft tissues, it may be possible to obtain into the obstructed nostril or by use of a decongestant such as a solution of an antihistamine or of a drug of the adrenalin family.

But more often, when the blockade is caused by obstructing cartilage or bone, the passage can only be cleared by surgical intervention.

AFTER A NASAL catarrh has persisted for some time, it invariably becomes complicated. Sooner or later, all the sinuses that drain into the obstructed nostril or nostrils suffer infection.

If the tiny openings through which their secretions enter the nose get plugged up, they fill with infective material that may destroy the delicate lining membranes and eat into surrounding bone. If their openings are unobstructed, catarrhal accumulations are forced into them during each violent attempt to blow the nose.

From this rather vivid description of the problem that faces the sufferer from catarrh, you will realize the importance of early consultation with a specialist in diseases of the nose and throat.

BUT SINCE ill-advised and poorly executed nasal surgery may add to the discomforts of the catarrhal sufferer, you practice a false economy if you fail to seek the advice of your family doctor every step of the way.

Let him direct you to the accredited specialist, give thoughtful consideration to the proposed procedure and, if possible, remain in attendance throughout the operation.

Some of your dollar-minded friends may regard these proposals as a waste but they make the difference between continued snorting and the joy of free breathing through clear nasal passages.

Salem Retains Third Place In Weekly AP Cage Survey

Dayton Team First Again

Lowell Listed Among Top 'A' Ten

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-five Class AA high school state basketball championships have been decided since Dayton Roosevelt captured the laurels back in 1934.

That was the same year the famous Waterloo Wonders came out of the Lawrence County hills for the first of their smaller school titles. There was so much talk about the Wonders that fans hardly noticed the Roosevelt conquest—the last for a Gem City school.

But Roosevelt is on the prowl again, with a 12-0 record as compared with the 19-2 championship mark of a quarter-century ago. The Dayton powerhouse is atop the weekly Associated Press poll today for the second straight time, and is one of the few unblemished Class AA teams in the state.

Fortyone sports editors gave Roosevelt a rousing 283 points on the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis, 43 ahead of Cleveland East Tech, the state champion the last two years. Salem, in third place, is 86 points away.

Van Del, the little Van Wert County school with 13 in a row, held onto the lead in Class A, and Salem Local of Urbana is threatening. The Salem team has won 37 of its last 38, losing only to Lynnwood-Jackson in last year's state tournament semifinals, and has 10 straight this season.

Carthage-Troy with 15-0 moved to third from 11th in Class A, and other newcomers are New Boston and Lowellville with 9-0, and Stanton Local of Irondale with 9-2. The latter is the lone defeated team in the select Class A list.

Marietta and Newark, each defeated once, climbed into the Class AA Top 10 as Massillon and Elyria dropped out.

From here and there: Gustavus of Trumbull County ended its 59-game losing streak last Tuesday by beating non-victorious Bloomfield 52-45 with a last-quarter come-from-behind effort. They meet again tonight.

Mansfield's Tygers also salvaged something. The once-mighty school had lost 10 straight football games and seven in basketball until defeating Sandusky last week.

Edgerton's defending Class A state champs seem to be getting no place in the poll, garnering only 27 points for an 18th place tie—but the Kings have a 38-game winning streak still going.

Remember Jim Langhurst of Willard, former Ohio State full-back standout? His son Jim is averaging 23.2 for Willard which has a 10-2 record. He's a 6-1 junior.

Gene Lane, 6-8 giant and only holdover from East Tech's title team, scored 28 against Cathedral Latin and 25 against Collinwood last week as the Scarabs ran their winning streak to nine after losing the opener. Jim Snowden, Youngstown East's All-Ohio football end, set a new city scoring mark of 53 against Struthers last week.

Back in 1945 Russell Gregg was on the Ashville team which set the school record of 103 points and reached the state tournament semifinals when he made the all-tourney team. Now he's the Ashville coach, and Friday he watched his boys break the record with a 111-66 win over Scioto Twp. He used his second and third team the final quarter, but they scored 38 in seven minutes.

Cadiz was bounced from the unbeaten by Bellaire, 66-54. Ashland's 10-game streak was halted in overtime by Lorain, 78-76, and Cleveland John Marshall stopped St. Ignace at nine straight, 53-46.

Trenton of Butler County has won 12 straight, but forfeited two for using an ineligible player a minute in each. Jim Bothen, Hamilton Catholic junior, is averaging 25.2. Middletown, in one of its worst campaigns, likes Hamilton's spanking new gymnasium. The Middies beat Garfield 80-68 and Taft 81-39 in the shiny plant.

Tom Horodyski of Vernon scored 35 Friday for a 322 total and a 28.2 average. And Ron Baker, Clyde's 6-2 senior, came up with a futile 32-point splurge against Fremont St. Joe. The latter won 70-54.

Elyria, Lorain and Marion Harding tied for the Buckeye Conference football crown—and the same three are deadlocked for the same title lead with 4-2 records.

Alliance coach Ron Peeling and Canton South mentor "Red" Ash missed Friday's game between their teams. Ash was abed with the flu, Peeling at his ailing mother's bedside. Alliance won 52-41.

Staubenville has a great one-two punch in co-captains Sandy Williams and Phil Musgrave. The former has scored 223, the latter 197, each is a 6-3 senior, and the team record is 6-3, too. John Pothorski, 6-4 Carrollton senior, hit for 34 as his team made it 8-1 by beating Springfield Local 67-51.

Seven of New Boston's nine straight victims were Class AA schools, but the Bostonians constructed a 77 to 43 scoring average over 'em.

Has Tallied 200; Radler's Average Best

United's Summer Paces Countians

Jim Summer, United's 6-1, 210-pound center, last week became the first player in the county to score 200 points this season. Summer connected for 45 markers in a pair of games last week-end to run his season total to an even 200. The big center has picked up his leading point total in 10 contests. He boasts a 20-point-per-game average.

LEE RADLER of Leetonia and Bob Kiggins of Wellsville remained number two and three, respectively, in the county scoring race. Salem's all-star guard, Dave Hunter, jumped two places into fourth place. The 5-11 senior tallied 54 points in Salem's two victories over the weekend.

Radler has the best average in the county, 23.4. He is followed by Hunter with 20.6 points per game and Summer with 20.

Wellsville and Salem are dominating cage play in the county this season. The Tigers slipped by a strong Weirton, W. Va. team 57-33 on Saturday to increase their record to 8-1.

Salem is 7-1 with a one-point defeat at the hands of Youngstown East, the only blemish on an otherwise perfect record. The two county powerhouses have a showdown battle scheduled for Jan. 29 at Wellsville.

THE QUAKERS and the Tigers, along with United, each have three men among the top 20 scorers in the county.

In feature games this week, Beaver Local will be at home tonight against Youngstown Woodrow Wilson while Fairfield-Waterford will entertain Lowellville, one of the state's Class A powers, on Friday.

Cincinnati Still Rated First In Country

By The Associated Press
Despite a one-point loss to Bradley last Saturday night Cincinnati retained its status as the nation's No. 1 basketball team today.

Bradley, whose thrilling last-minute 91-90 victory toppled the Bearcats from the unbeaten ranks, is ranked second by the nation's sportswriters and broadcasters in this week's Associated Press poll.

Cincinnati (13-1) gained 86 first-place votes while Bradley got 17. Cincinnati collected 1,691 points and Bradley 1,527.

Just a shade behind Bradley (12-1) is California (14-1) which drew 22 first-place votes and only 13 points less. Hospitalized Cage Star to See Game

CINCINNATI (AP) — Maurice Stokes, one of the most formidable pro basketball players once, gets a brief leave Sunday from the hospital that has been his home nearly two years.

It will be to watch a National Basketball Assn. game—between his former Cincinnati Royals team mates and Philadelphia.

Stokes, an amputee, came out of St. Francis of Pennsylvania to become of the NBA's best defensor.

But a brain inflammation, possibly due to a blow on the head in a game several days earlier, struck him down March 15, 1958. Doctors call it encephalopathy.

Stokes was unable to move or speak for months. More recently he has been able to eat, speak increasingly and take a few steps in a big brace.

Teammate Jack Twyman, his guardian, said attending a game was "something Maurice has wanted to do since his injury."

Greenford to Play 3 Loop Contests

Canfield, Goshen Squads to Clash

Canfield, winner of three of its last four games, may not be in a class with league-leading Lowellville this year, but the Cardinals are shaping up as one of the stronger teams in the Inter-County League.

The Cardinals have played only one league game and won it 53-34 over Greenford. Eight of their last nine contests will be against Inter-County opposition. They don't have to tangle with Lowellville until the next to the last game of the season.

Canfield has shown excellent scoring balance while posting five wins in nine outings. The Cardinals have four men who have scored between 93 and 99 points this season.

BILL ANDERSON leads the parade with 99 markers, Harry McPhee and Tom Sopkovich each has 98, and Jim Albert of football fame has 93.

On Friday night the Cardinals traveled to Goshen to meet another rapidly improving team. After shaking up his lineup earlier in the month, Coach Joe Tucker of the Gophers seems to have found a winning combination in Lynn Barnett, Chuck Brown, Milt Donohue, Larry Shreve and Dick London.

The Gophers have a 4-4 record this season, including two straight wins.

GREENFORD, which also has a 4-4 mark, will play three league games this week. Tonight it will host Jackson-Milton which features Jim Reeves, the area's leading scorer with 243 points.

Salem Motorcycle Club Has Officer Election

William Townsend of Leetonia was re-elected president of the Salem Motorcycle Club, Inc. at its annual meeting held on Friday.

Other officers elected were Harold Wurster of Leetonia, vice president; Ethel Bricker of Leetonia, secretary; Loueta Baird of RD Leetonia, treasurer; Robert Deming of Youngstown, road captain; Clarence Bricker of Leetonia, referee; and Alice Hilliard of Salem, club reporter.

Five directors also were elected. They are Wilbur Baird of Leetonia, Pete Ohle of Mineral Ridge, Robert Eaton of Youngstown, Ronnie Hale of Youngstown and Benjie Gonzalez of Columbiana.

The school is in its 15th year and is the only umpire school this year. It will end Feb. 28.

"The first thing we teach them is how to call a player out properly — by using the closed fist instead of the thumb," said Somers who retired as chief umpire of the Pacific Coast League last year after 20 years in baseball business.

Minnesota Rally Whips Illinois

Maryland, Baylor, Wake Forest Roll

By The Associated Press
If college basketball fails to distinguish itself for nothing else this season, it's bound to be known as the year of the sophomore.

It began with eyes peeled for such touted newcomers as Jerry Lucas of Ohio State, Len Chappell of Wake Forest, Billy (The Hill) McGill of Utah and Wayne Hightower of Kansas. Week by week, even game by game, there have been so many additions it's unlikely you can pick up an account of a college game without finding a sophomore in a key role.

East Palestine To Meet Lisbon, Leetonia

Bulldogs Given Edge In Both

Columbiana to Go Against Louisville

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

After an upset win over Poland and a trouncing at the hands of Minerva last week, the East Palestine Bulldogs will get an opportunity tonight and Friday to fatten up their averages against a pair of fellow Columbiana County teams which thus far have served as door mats for the Tri-County League.

Leetonia and Lisbon, each with 0-4 loop records, will furnish the opposition for the Bulldogs. East Palestine with a 3-1 mark, is currently tied with Sebring for second place in the league.

SEBRING, however, is likely to drop a notch after tonight since it is slated to run up against the rugged Minerva Lions.

Minerva, with three of the top five leading scorers in the Tri-County League, has chalked up four consecutive loop victories without a defeat. The Lions of Coach Don Lawther have dropped only one decision this season and that was by one point to Carrollton.

Minerva has been the only team this year to come up with a defense to stop Leetonia's Lee Radler. The league's leading scorer was limited to just eight points last week when the Lions throttled the Bears 82-50.

RADLER BOUNCED back three nights later against Sebring for 28 points. The 60 senior still boats a 23.4 point per game average, best in the league.

The closest game in the league tonight is likely to be at Louisville where the Columbiana Clippers are slated to go against the Leopards. Both teams have 2-2 league records.

Team and individual statistics follow:

Miami Beaten By Xavier 80-71

Ohio U., Wilmington, Toledo Are Winners

By The Associated Press

Hospitality was a little thin along the Ohio college basketball front Monday night. The home teams won all five games.

Xavier fought off a late rally to defeat Miami (Ohio) 80-71, Ohio University after leading by 15 points had to come from behind to nip St. Francis (Pa.) 82-79, Toledo crushed Findlay 82-47, Wilmington got hot in the second half to down Berea (Ky.) 92-77 and Kentucky State dumped Wilberforce 83-68.

Miami held a two-point lead at the half and the score was tied seven times in the second half before the Musketeers inched out in front to stay. The win was Xavier's 10th in 15 games. Miami, in the midst of its worst season in a decade, is 3-10.

Ohio U.'s Bobcats, who have won five in a row and own a 8-4 over-all mark, held a 68-53 lead with 8:37 left. With 1:35 remaining the Bobcats were behind Sr. Francis 79-78. But Ohio dropped in two field goals by Bruce Johnson and Larry Kruger—to pull the game out.

Toledo (11-2) was out of Findlay's class. The Rockets roared to a 13-point lead in the opening minutes and toyed with the Oilers (7-3) the rest of the way.

Rich Morton rang up 20 points in the second half to help Wilmington (6-4) overtake Berea. Wilberforce (3-6) was the only Ohio team to venture out of the state. Kentucky State (11-4) broke out of a 14-14 deadlock and was never headed again.

Scoring honors for the night went to Xavier's Jack Thobe and St. Francis' Joe Aston—both scored 29 points.

San Francisco — Zora Foley, 194, Chandler, Ariz., outpointed Eddie Machen, 199, Redding, Calif., 12.

Columbiana Village Council To Consider Several Actions

COLUMBIANA — Three major items of business are scheduled to come up for Village Council attention at its meeting tonight at 7:30. Among the items are a proposed ordinance to regulate the sale of guns and other weapons which can be concealed on the person. Recommended by the council safety committee, the measure would require retail outlets to secure a license for the sale of such firearms, and would require purchasers to secure a permit for the purchase — neither license nor permit to have any fee connected. Another piece of business is the scheduled appointment of a street commissioner, annually made at council's second meeting in January. There reportedly are three applicants for the job, now held by Carl Spratt, who is completing his ninth year as commissioner. The appointment is made by the mayor, subject to approval by a majority of councilmen.

Third potential matter for discussion is the fire protection contract between the village and Fairfield Township.

The trustees of the township reportedly feel the rate is too high, although it has been in force for four years. The rate is $850 per year minimum charge, or the total amount figured from equipment and manpower furnished by the village fire department for fighting a fire in the township. That rate is set at $60 for each fire truck used at a blaze, and $2.50 an hour per fireman for time actually spent in fighting the fire.

Prospective donors are asked to call Mrs. Kauffman at HA 4-5978 or Mrs. William Bergert, HA 4-3173 for appointments.
